At the threshold of the winter season we the JUST family come knocking at your door with our newsletter of this quarter. The winter season has its own beauties, charms and advantages. It gives us lot of fruits and vegetables. It is good for health. It is suitable for hard work. We do not get tired soon. The winter season improves our health. Our digestion improves during this season. We look energetic and smart in this season. It is delightful to sit round the fire in the evening and chat with the friends. Yet the winter season is very painful for the poor. The poor people do not have warm clothes. They shiver with cold at night. They find difficult to sleep at night.

As you enjoy the winter’s beauty and charm this new letter comes to share with you the efforts that are taken by JUST during this quarter to bring down the pain of the poor and improve the quality of life of many through different programs and activities. As you read through this newsletter some of you may realize that you have generously supported us to achieve what we have done thanks a lot for the same. Some of you may feel like joining us to reduce the pain and improve the quality of life of many and you are most welcome.

As I pen these few lines as the Benjamin of this organization not in age but in seniority I feel privileged to be part of this great organization which has been involved in changing the lives of many people in the land of bamboos under the able and efficient leadership of Fr. Robert Mathias, CSC, the Director.

Everything in the world is ‘BECOMING’. In the process of becoming we begin to forget our past, thus we end up by hurting others. In this context I would like to share with you a mother’s love letter which I came across some time ago.

“My dear girl, the day you see I’m getting old, I ask you to please be patient, but most of all, try to understand what I’m going through. If when we talk, I repeat the same thing a thousand times, don’t interrupt to say: “You said the same thing a minute ago.” Just listen, please. Try to remember the times when you were little and I would read the same story night after night until you would fall asleep. When I don’t want to take a bath, don’t be mad and don’t embarrass me. Remember when I had to run after you making excuses and trying to get you to take a shower when you were just a girl? When you see how ignorant I am when it comes to new technology, give me the time to learn and don’t be mad. Remember, honey, I patiently taught you how to do many things like eating appropriately, getting dressed, combing your hair, and dealing with life’s issues every day. The day you see I’m getting old, I ask you to please be patient, but most of all, try to understand what I’m going through. If I occasionally lose track of what we’re talking about, give me the time to remember, and if I can’t, don’t be nervous, impatient, or arrogant. Just know in your heart that the most important thing for me is to be with you. And when my old, tired legs don’t let me move as quickly as before, give me your hand the same way that I offered mine to you when you first walked. When those days come, don’t feel sad—just be with me, and understand me while I get to the end of my life with love. I’ll cherish and thank you for the gift of time and joy we shared. With a big smile and the huge love I’ve always had for you, I just want to say, I love you, my darling daughter.”
